Instructor Profile
Nasrullah Khan Niazi
nkniazi@iba.edu.pk

Prerequisite

Student must have the concepts about any object oriented programming language.

Course Description:
This course has been designed for IT professionals and the computer science students who want to excel and gain knowledge in the field Mobile app development.

The course “Application Development for Mobile Devices” makes it easy and efficient to learn application development for mobile devices.

Learning Outcomes:
Student must be able to develop the mobile apps independently and must have the complete understanding of mobile app development.
Following tentative topics would be covered during the course.

Teaching Methodology:
It would be a complete interactive, theoretical, and Lab based course. More emphasis would be on Lab (practical) work.

Course Duration:
This course consists upon 36 hours, 6 hours in a week, 6 weeks (Afternoon)